Special to DAILY BULLETIN.

FRANKFORT, Ky., January 31.—There has been the most intense excitement over the various resolutions and motions. The resolution to drop the hindmost candidate was adopted last night and Carlisle, McKenzie, Turner and others were placed in nomination, but the caucus adjourned at twelve o'clock without taking a ballot. Williams is still considered to be in the lead.

This elasticity of gas, or rather of the price of gas, is illustrated in Sanbury, Pa., where it has been reduced from $3 to 75 cents a thousand feet, and in St. Louis, where on one side of Washington Avenue the price is $2.50, and on the other side of the avenue $1.50 a thousand feet.

The rescinding of the rule prohibiting the making of oral nominations by the Democratic caucus at Frankfort, is interpreted as the beginning of a break, either for Blackburn or Carlisle. Several new nominations were made last night but the caucus adjourned before a ballot could be taken.

It is wise to provide against emergencies that are liable to arise in any festival. A cold may be a dangerous thing or not, depending upon the means at hand to combat it. In sudden attacks of cold, croup, asthma, etc., Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will prove the quickest and most effective cure, and your best friend.

The auction sale of season tickets, at the Cincinnati Opera Festival, is one of the remarkable events in the amusement world of this country. Although Mr. Abbey and the College of Music present for the festival, which begins February 11th, in Music Hall, such attractions as has never before been seen, yet there were not as many season tickets sold at the auction as on former occasions. This was owing chiefly to the season of two weeks with twelve performances, more than ever before given at any festival. Of course this throws open to the public a much larger number of single reserved seats at $2.00. Those who wish to attend one or more performances, are now certain of getting excellent seats at a small price. The sale has already begun, and will continue until the close of the festival. This may truly be called the "People's Opera."

Another Sinking Outrage.

Fort Worth (Tex.) Gazette. Another sickening outrage on the defenseless negro has been perpetrated in Mississippi. The Bourbon Legislature of that State has taken up an offending negro man and elected him Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate.

How to Stop a Stye.

Dr. Louis Fitzpatrick writes to the Lancet that he has never seen a single instance in which the stye continued to develop after the following treatment had been resorted to: The lids should be held apart by the thumb and index fin on the left hand, or a lid retractor, if such be at hand, while the tincture of iodine is painted over the inflamed papilla with the camel's hair pencil. The lids should not be allowed to come in contact until the part touched is dry. A few such applications in the twenty-four hours are sufficient.

The Clan-Na-National, Hibernian Rifles, and thirty-seven divisions of the Ancient Order of Hibernians formed a procession, headed by a full band of music and a platoon of police. At the Grand Pacific Hotel a halt was made to receive Governor Hamilton and his accompaniment. The demonstration closed with music and song.

A Moral For Those of Ample Faith. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 30.—Considerable excitement is being manifested throughout this State by discovery of gold near Marshall, Zeary County. The find is said to be in the mountains within a few miles of the above town, and is said to be very rich and abundant in deposit, and, if properly worked, would yield handsomely. Suggers have been forwarded to capitalists and operators throughout the country. A gentleman in San Francisco, to whom some of the ore was sent, says: "The mine and vein proves it to be genuine gold ore, very rich. I have $100,000 in vest in the spot of earth from which it was taken."

Italian Loyalty. ROME, Jan. 30.—King Humbert has written an autograph letter to Signor Deprets, the Italian Premier, in which he is said to refer to the intense loyalty displayed by Italians of all classes during the recent pilgrimage to the last resting place of his father. He says the pilgrimage proves that the unity of the Italian people is complete, and furnishes abundant evidence that the faith of the people in national institutions and their belief in the excellence of the moral education of Italy is unshaken. "The joy and reverence displayed," the King says, "proves Rome's willingness to be custodian of the fatherland's father's tomb."

Lively Democratic Meeting. PITTSBURGH, Jan. 30.—After an all night session of unprecedented confusion and disorder the Democracy of this city at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning at the end of the nineteenth ballot, secured the nomination of Robert Liddle as candidate for Mayor for the ensuing year. The fight swept away old lines and men who always stood together in former years found themselves face to face in the struggle causing great excitement. It was a struggle to the death, intense as when it became apparent that the only break in rank of the followers of one of the leading candidates would bring an end. All the available policemen were massed at the hall with strong array of clubs and batons. The action of the men in command was the only thing that prevented a serious conflict.

Blaine and Arthur. WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Blaine dined at Arthur's last night to review his social obligations. Blaine says: "Arthur knows I am not for him politically, yet that is no reason why we should be at points socially."

AN EXCITING FIRE.

Many Persons Narrowly Escape and Several Killed and Injured. BOMB, N. Y., Jan. 30.—The stores owned by C. E. Saultage and Wheeler & Armstrong are burning. Stanwick Hall, Stanwick Bank, and the Opera House are seriously threatened. There is very little head to the water, and an extensive conflagration is feared.

LATER—Stanwick Hall is now on fire, and people are moving from their houses in all directions.

LATER—At 4:30 Wednesday morning the three-story building, comprising two stores with apartments above, between the Hall Hotel and Stanwick Bank block, on James street, was found on fire in the second story. Mrs. Samuel Alexander, wife of the proprietor, who kept a clothing store below, gave the alarm by crying for help from one of the upper windows, saying she and her children were suffocating. The watchman pulled the fire alarm. Women and children were rescued by policemen by the aid of ladders. Ten minutes after the fire broke out an unaccountable explosion occurred, knocking out the whole front wall of the building above the first story. Joseph Alexander, forty-five, unmarried, a brother of the proprietor of the clothing store, in attempting to save goods, was knocked down by a wall and he lay some time under the debris before he was discovered by persons who were attracted to the scene by his moans. He was taken out and taken to the station house. His skull was crushed and his ribs and shoulder blades broken. He died at 7 o'clock in the morning. David Patterson, of Albany, a clerk in Alexander's store, was struck by a falling wall. His left ankle was crushed, the leg being amputated. O. W. Sage's wife got out of the room with her night clothes through a door into Stanwick Hall just before the explosion. The hotel had seventy-five guests, who were aroused, and who removed their things to the corner of the hotel caught fire, but the wall side of the burning building stood firmly. The hotel was saved, but badly damaged. The fire entered the upper story of the Stanwick Bank block, but the firemen checked its progress. Sinks Opera House, in the rear, narrowly escaped, the glass windows being nearly all cracked. The blowing out of the front of the room with her night clothes through a door into the burning building where it started. George Armstrong, of Baltimore, and C. W. Saultage, of New York, were in the burning building. There is a difference of opinion as to the cause of the explosion. It is thought that the roof, which is forty feet wide, having only wooden supports in the center, fell, all at once compressing the air of the building and forcing out the wall.

A NARROW ESCAPE. NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The ferry boat Moonshine ran into and sunk the tug boat Charles F. Starin in the East River. The crew of the Starin had barely time to climb on board the ferry boat before it was crushed.
